GUARDS GLAD TO BE ORDERED HOME

Boys Of Second Regiment Jubilant When News Reaches Camp

Camp Wilson, San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 22.—The Second Wisconsin infantry did not learn until Monday morning that it had been designated by Gen. Funston to return home. Only a terrific rain storm prevented a demonstration with the band participating. The news first reached the regiment through a morning newspaper. Some of the officers received the information in the city Sunday night.

It will take the companies more than a month to arrive at their home stations. The command consists of companies from Manitowish, Oshkosh, Oconto, Marinette, Ashland, Green Bay, Rhinelander, Fond du Lac, Beaver Dam, Sheboygan, Ripon—two each from Oshkosh and Appleton. It contains 1,232 men and 51 officers.

Officers in Wisconsin on leave will be officially advised on Monday by telegram to return to the command at Fort Sheridan. Those absent are Maj. Walter Marden, Oshkosh; Capt. Robert Connor, Marshfield; Lieut. William Watkins, Oconto, and John West, Appleton.

SNOW STORM IS WORST IN YEARS

Train service was crippled, telegraph and telephone wires lowered and other damage done Sunday by one of the wildest snow storms to sweep over this part of the state in several years. The storm started in late Saturday night and continued all day Sunday without abatement.

Passenger trains through this city on both railroads were hours behind schedule on account of the blizzard. In some places the snow drifts piled five feet high over the track. Snow plows were immediately put into service, but it was not until early Monday morning that the tracks were sufficiently cleared to permit ordinary progress.

GOOD SEED CORN

Farmers of Oneida county have a splendid opportunity to get good seed corn for the coming season's planting which has been matured right in our own county. It is of the Wisconsin No. 25 variety. This is a yellow dent somewhat resembling the No. 8 except that it matures about ten days earlier and ears out better. A number of fields were planted with this seed last year and all gave excellent results. This variety does not produce a large stalk and so the yields of silage per acre are not large but the fact that it matures so early makes its feeding value double that of the larger, but later varieties. The seed of this corn can be procured from several different farmers of the county and farmers planning to plant much of an acreage to corn this season will do well to engage early the amount of seed needed for their planting.

NEW LOAN OFFICE

Roy H. Beebe, representing Markham & May Company, farm mortgage bankers of Milwaukee, has established an office in Rhinelander. He is located in rooms over Kristensen's garage on S. Stevens street. Markham & May Company have just recently extended their operations to the northern Wisconsin counties and solicit the patronage of dairymen, potato growers and stock raisers. In another part of this paper the company has a display advertisement.

MAY DECORATE COURT HOUSE

Members of the Oneida county bar are backing a movement, which if it should come to a successful culmination, will result in the interior decoration of the Oneida county court house. H. J. Brockmiller, who had charge of the decorating work in the Hotel Oneida, says that it will be possible to do the court house decorating at a cost between $3800 and $5500. Accordingly the bar association has asked the county board, for an appropriation of $1,000 for this purpose. Every attorney in this county and county officers are supporting the project and Judge A. H. Reid of this circuit is also favorable to it.

A committee to serve without pay, consisting of Clerk of Court Sturdevant, District Attorney O'Melia, County Judge Steele, Ira Smith, chairman of county board, and one member of the bar, will work in the interests of the movement. Judge Smith presented before the county board the resolution asking for the appropriation. The matter was referred to the committee on public property and will be taken up at the next meeting of the board in March.

SOO LIMITED IN WRECK AT GAGEN

Three Are Hurt When Driving Rod Crashes Through Locomotive Cab

Three Soo line engineers experienced a narrow escape from death Sunday morning when the main driving pin on the locomotive of train No. 7, the west bound limited, broke, causing one of the big drive wheels and driving rods to crash through the floor of the cab. The accident occurred near Gagen.

Engineer Leo Wintel received an injured hip and back. Albert Weingartner, fireman, suffered a broken arm and bruised back. James Lancelle, another engineer, who was riding in the cab for the purpose of learning the road, sustained slight injuries. The men live in Gladstone.

Fireman Weingartner was found to be the most severely hurt and he was removed to St. Mary's hospital in this city. He will recover. That the man was not killed seems miraculous. It is said that he was struck by the driving rod when it came through the cab floor and hurled from the cab a distance of forty feet.

REQUEST SALE OF BIG STATE LANDS

Rogers' Bill Asks That 500,000 Acres Be Placed On Market

Assemblyman Rogers of this district will present a bill to the legislature within the next few days to place on the market the 500,000 acres of land belonging to the state, which was withdrawn from the market in 1911, at the time of passage of the state forestry law. Some of the land is in the state forestry reserve and some is not and the value of the land, according to Mr. Rogers is from $8 to $20 an acre.

No provisions will be made in the bill as to the method or terms under which the land is to be sold. This will be left entirely with the land commissioners, who will be empowered under the measure to sell the land whenever they deem wise, either at public or private sale. The bill will propose simply to repeal the law of 1911, withdrawing the land from the market and restoring to the land commissioners the power to sell the land for the benefit of the state. It is said the bill will be opposed by friends of the forestry reserve plan.

COMPANY L WILL SOON RETURN FROM BORDER

There was rejoicing among relatives and friends of Company L members Monday when word was received from the border that the boys are coming home. That the company will be mustered out of service and return to Rhinelander within four weeks is the present outlook.

From Washington, D. C., comes the news that more than 25,000 National guardsmen now on the Mexican border, have been designated by Maj. Gen. Funston for return home and muster out of the federal service, under the order issued on Saturday by the war department.

All these organizations will be started homeward as soon as transportation facilities can be provided. Their departure will leave between 45,000 and 50,000 men of the guard still in the federal service doing border patrol.

The guardsmen designated for return and muster out include the Minnesota First infantry and First Field artillery and the Wisconsin Second infantry.

The Second Wisconsin infantry of which Company L is a member, comprises about 1,500 men, in twelve infantry companies, a machine gun company, a supply company, and a sanitary corps. Col. Wilbur M. Lee of Oconto is in command.

In the First battalion the company stations are as follows: C. Sheboygan; E. Fond du Lac; K. Beaver Dam; D. Ripon. In the Second battalion they are: M. Oconto; A. Marshfield; L. Rhinelander; I. Marinette. In the Third battalion, the stations are: G. Appleton; F. Oshkosh; H. Manitowish; B. Oshkosh.

With the return of this regiment, only Troop B will remain on the border to represent the Wisconsin National guard. Troop B is at present attached as orderly troop at San Antonio, Tex., and consists largely of Milwaukee young men.

CRANDON LOSES TO RHINELANDER

Score Is 42 To 0.—High School Plays Ironwood Next Friday

As a curtain raiser to the Crandon game last Friday, a preliminary was played between the alumni and the second team. It was a highly interesting game, marred somewhat in the second half by the rough tactics of Webbie Ashton, whose attacks on Rastus Foster were vindictive, and in view of their relative size and weight, quite unnecessary. The game closed 20-12 in favor of the alumni, represented by Foster, Strope, Squire, Redfield, Bonnie, and Knister. The second team made up of McEachin, R. Cain, Hack, Ashton, Herger, and Morton.

The big game was won by the locals 42-0, perhaps the first shut out in the basket ball history of the city. In spite of the one sided score the game was a highly interesting one and, particularly during the first half, was quick and snappy. The team work of Crandon was excellent, their passing clever, but they were unable to gauge the baskets, their own ball being much smaller and lower than ours.

The game was refereed by the Crandon coach during the first half and by Coach Sorenson in the second. Crandon was represented by Burmeister, Ferguson, Moe, G. Ferguson, and Lamont; Rhinelander's line up was Whitaker, Danielson, Westgate, Usher, Sorenson and Wilson.

A good crowd was in attendance, the receipts being well in advance of the expenses. Dancing was enjoyed for an hour after the game, the music being furnished by the H. S. orchestra.

Friday of this week the locals meet the strong Ironwood team at the gym. A preliminary opens at 7:45, the big game beginning at 8:30. The game will be a fast one, and we want a crowd.

WANT ELK FOR STATE GAME FARM

An order will probably be placed with the Yellowstone National park authorities for a carload of elk for the Wisconsin game farm at Trout Lake, Vilas county, according to C. M. Wagner, chairman of the state conservation committee.

The order is to be placed at once and if the Yellowstone authorities are able to fill it, about 60 elk will be on their way to Wisconsin within a few days.

About three years ago a fund was raised to bring elk from Wyoming to Wisconsin, and the animals were bought and shipped to this state. Because of the inclement weather, however, only two females survived the trip.

Last fall Charles Comisky of Chicago, gave the state a male elk. The state game department refused to pay the transportation charges and still have the fund on hand—Eagle River News.

RENAME MOODY ON COMMISSION

Frank B. Moody, a former resident of this city, was reappointed a member of the state conservation commission last Thursday. His term will expire in 1923. Mr. Moody is forestry expert for the commission and to him is assigned the task of looking after the forests as well as the state parks. James Nevin and W. E. Barber are the other members.

Mr. Moody's friends in Rhinelander are pleased to hear of his reappointment on the commission.

Mrs. A. McArthur goes to Wautoma Friday morning, spending Friday morning in Oshkosh enroute.

Mrs. S. B. Gary went the first of the week to Minneapolis to spend a couple of weeks; will come home with Mr. Gary who goes to attend ice carnival.

CHALLENGE COMES FROM CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 18, 1917.

Rev. Wedge, Dear Sir:—I have been reading a good deal of your boxing team in various newspapers. I would like very much to arrange sort of inter-city contest with boxers from Cleveland, and with those of your city, bouts to be held at your club. I have been giving this amateur sports a good deal of my time and many of my boxers have won national honors. Trusting that you can arrange such a contest, I remain yours in sports.

CHARLES MAROTTA.

Managr. Cleveland Amateur Athletic Association.

Mr. Wedge has written the Cleveland association that just as soon as the Rhinelander boys win over every good amateur boxer in northern Wisconsin, we will take their club on. Contests will be held twice a month between the Antigo, Wausau, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Hurley, and Superior amateur athletes. The Cleveland Club has the champion amateur welter weight and here is the chance for our best welter weights to win the championship of the world. Some honor for Rhinelander and Rev. Wedge believes that he has championship material in his club. They are being ably instructed by Jack Daucherty the ex-welter weight champion of the world and should win every contest this winter.

MAY FORM FARM LOAN SOCIETY

Government Proposition Will Be Heard By Farmers Saturday

Postmaster Matt Stapleton announces that he will call a meeting in the office of W. D. Juday, county agricultural agent, on Saturday, January 27, at 3 P. M. for the purpose of organizing a branch of the National Farm Loan association.

Only farmers or prospective farmers who wish to borrow may join the association provided under the federal farm loan act. It takes ten or more to make up one of these associations. If a farmer wishes to borrow he should find out if such an association has been formed in his community. If no association has been formed ten or more farmers who wish to borrow may organize one.

The process of organization is very simple. One of the members should write to the federal farm loan board, Washington, D. C., for blank articles of association. When they have been received a meeting of the prospective borrowers should be called and these articles of association should be adopted, signed and acknowledged by each member.

This association elects five or more directors, who elect a president, a vice president, a secretary, treasurer, and a loan committee of three members.

No one farmer may borrow more than $10,000 nor less than $100. No national farm loan association may start with less than $20,000 of loans.

Each member joining the local association must buy stock in the association equal to 5 per cent of the amount he borrows.

Each of the local loan associations has a vote in the election of the directors in one of the federal loan banks. The loan committee, provided by the local association, is the agency for the valuation of the lands. The board of directors of the local association admits or rejects new members, according to their wishes.

Loans made under this system may not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised value of the land used as security, and 25 per cent of the appraised value of the permanent, insured improvements thereon.

Nonland owners may become members of an association by indicating in their application what land they expect to come into possession of and against which the mortgage will be placed.

HEAR MR. BRYAN

M. H. Barton, editor of the News, and A. R. Bucknam, who is conducting the dry campaign in this city, have returned from Madison where they attended the monster prohibition meeting which was addressed by William Jennings Bryan in the stock-judging pavilion of Wisconsin University Monday.

MORGAN BREAKS ARM

James H. Morgan, of the Morgan Garage & Supply company, had the ill luck Sunday to break his right arm while cranking an automobile.

NEW ROAD JOINS NORTH AND SOUTH

Rhinelanders Autoists To Aid Meridian Highway Movement

This city, the metropolis of Northern Wisconsin and the heart of the greatest summer resort region in the central of the United States, has two hundred and thirty lakes and eleven trout streams within a radius of twelve miles of the City Hall.

Rhinelanders will be the rendezvous for the tourist travel from the central and southern part of the country over the Meridian Highway, which is now being promoted and marked with sign boards from Mobile and Gulfport in the Riviera of the South to the wonderful pleasure grounds of Northern Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Within the last month a hundred thousand dollar hotel, as modern as any to be found in New York or Chicago, has been opened for the accommodation of the traveling public. This hotel is called the Oneida, named after the famous chief of the Indian tribe which lived in this happy hunting ground before the day the pale face invaded it.

Rhinelanders is not only in the vicinity of lakes, but is bounded on three sides by the widening of the Wisconsin River at its junction with the Pelican river.

The population of the city is about seven thousand and it is growing rapidly on account of its importance as a commercial center and as headquarters for the rapidly increasing tourist travel to this part of the country.

The Meridian Highway, coming up from Meridian and Gulfport by way of Meridian, Columbus and Corinth, Miss., Jackson, Tenn., Cairo, Carbondale, Duquoin, Centralia, Pana, Decatur, Clinton, Bloomington, El Paso, Minonk, Wenona, LaSalle, Mendota, Rockville, and Rockford, Ill., Beloit and Janesville, Wis., in a straight line, bends westward from Janesville in order to make Madison, Baraboo, Kilbourn, Adams, Friendship, Grand Rapids, Stevens Point, Wausau and Merrill and gets back to a straight line again in the vicinity of Rhinelander, whence it goes straight to Lake Superior by way of Three Lakes, and Eagle River, Wis., Watersmeet, Ontonagon and Houghton, Mich., and from Watersmeet to Ashland, Wis., by way of Ironwood and other cities.

Malcolm McKinnon of Rockford, Ill., and Madison, was in Rhinelander Tuesday and addressed the directors of the Rhinelander Advancement Association at the City Hall this afternoon. Rhinelander will put every ounce of its strength behind this movement and is ready to cooperate with all the cities along the Meridian Highway in making this north and south route one of the best known and most used national thoroughfares in the United States.

This county is about to vote on a bond issue to construct its part of the Meridian Highway immediately and is endeavoring to get State and Federal aid in the building of a prominent route along this line.

Oneida county, of which Rhinelander is the seat of government, enjoys the distinction of having been the first county in the United States to employ an agricultural expert. This indicates the progressive character of the people of this vicinity.

Secretary McKinnon spoke at Three Lakes Wednesday night and will spend the rest of the month in the north. In February he is going to Mississippi, Alabama, and Tennessee on a preliminary lecture, and publicity trip. He has made arrangements to speak before the Jackson Chamber of Commerce, Jackson, Tenn., The Corinth Business Men's Club at Corinth, Miss., the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, Meridian Retail Merchants' Association, and the Board of Trade and Cotton Exchange of the same city, the Service Club of Gulfport, and numerous other organizations along that line in the south.

O. A. HILGERMAN TAKES A BRIDE

Otto A. Hilgerman of this city and Mrs. Frieda Mueller were united in marriage in Chicago Monday. Only meager particulars of the wedding have been received here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilgerman have departed on a wedding trip to Florida and Cuba and are expected to arrive in Rhinelander to reside sometime in April.

Mr. Hilgerman is one of Rhinelander's old and prominent business men. He established the Rhinelander Brewing Company here. His bride is a stranger to the people of this city but is said to be a lady of high esteem.

BANDIT HOLDS UP SOO NIGHT MAN

W. Simpson, night ticket agent for the Soo line in Ladysmith, was held-up and robbed by a masked bandit in regulation western style a few nights ago. The Ladysmith News-Budget gives the following account of the crime:

"East bound limited, No. 8, had just pulled out and after putting the baggage in the baggage-room, Mr. Simpson went into the depot. As he entered the door he thought he saw someone hiding behind the large stove. He investigated and his suspicion was corroborated in a startling manner when he found himself gazing into the business end of what looked to Simpson like a 42-centimeter revolver.

"The display of hardware was too much of an argument for Simpson to ignore and on demand of the stranger, who was masked with a dirty white handkerchief, he opened the ticket room and cash drawer and the bandit helped himself to the contents of the latter, amounting to $31.70.

"The robber was careful to keep Simpson covered with the revolver every minute and after getting the money he forced the night man to walk down the track with the admonition to stay there ten minutes."

Stop "Picking On" Picky
The toothpick chewing habit is not a pretty one nor is the picking of teeth in public places to be commended. Nevertheless, the tooth-pick does not deserve the disrepute into which it has fallen. Instead, as a health instrument, it deserves
a revival of patronage.

So deeply has it fallen under the ban of polite social usage, that it is now frequently a difficult matter to find a good one in many homes. This is pushing "refinement" altogether too far.

Because it is not considered polite to clean one's fingernails in public is no reason for throwing away nail files. Similarly, there is no good excuse for eliminating toothpicks.
Each one is a necessary and important tool in the process of keeping clean. And keeping clean is a life assurance policy.

The mouth ideal conditions for the growth of germs. It is moist, warm and sufficiently dark to make an ideal disease germ garden. The food which gathers between the teeth furnishes a lodging place for countless numbers of disease producing germs as well as the ordinary ones of decay. When, therefore, over-nice people refrain from picking their teeth, they are merely "too nice" to be really clean.

The tooth brush is all right as far as it goes. It is a perfectly obvious fact, however, that it does not go far enough. While some clean part way between the teeth, none go all the way around all of the surfaces unless the teeth are as far apart as those of the common public wash room comb. Something, therefore, in the nature of a toothpick, or stout thread, is necessary to keep the teeth decently clean. Polishing the front and back surfaces isn't enough. The margins between the closely set choppers and grinders are the most difficult to clean and hence most likely to decay and to harbor disease breeding organisms. The proper use of the toothpick in the proper place and at a proper time is a good habit and one that should be encouraged especially in childhood, the great habit forming period in life.

TRIPOLI

(Too Late For Last Week)
The T. C. A. High and Tripoli Graded School Notes

All returned to school much refreshed by the Christmas vacation and prepared to enter upon the new semester with enthusiasm. It has something good in store for some of us for a declamatory contest is being prepared and is to be given in about six weeks. Every student is to take part and deliver a declamation, not less than eight minutes in length, before the public. Judges will then decide upon the best deliverance.

The physiology class is studying The Control of Public Health.

The Freshman English class is reading the fifth canto in "The Lady of the Lake."

The American History class is studying the period of republican supremacy and the deposition from their long supremacy which was followed by the Cleveland democracy.

The eighth grade domestic science class will commence cooking
this week under the supervision of Miss Ann Dohoney.

Since the vacation two new students, Helen Maki and Steven Lowell have entered the primary department.

The semester final examinations will be given Monday and Tuesday.

spuds; and his lovely grown up daughter wants no poverty in her's—she must have a stylish bonnet and a costly set of furs and the son will need some money as he studies for the bar; thirty-seven hard earned dollars won't take father very far. Father has so many problems that his hair has fallen out, yet it's safest to bet a koepke on that patient dauntless scout. Somehow he will buy the bacon, somehow he'll provide the spuds; Susan Jane will have her sables, and the kids will have their duds; there'll be coal to feed the furnace, there'll be comfort in the shack, while tired father fights his battle with eight stitches in his back.—Clipped.

CASSIAN

(Too Late For Last Week)
Herman Gaedike was a business visitor at Cassian Tuesday.

Mrs. Peterson was in Tomahawk
Monday and Tuesday with Francis who is ill.

Messrs. Bosura, Olson and Peterson moved the Evans family from the Otto Miller farm to rooms over
J. P. Jensen's store Monday.

Ira Smith departed for Rhinelander Monday via Soo line where he will be in attendance of the for Goodman, Friday where she has employment.

E. L. Marsh and L. L. Jensen have contracted to cut one hundred cords of pulp wood on the Ray Jones farm. M. C. Peterson is doing the hauling.

MAKE WORK EASIER

Rhinelander People Are Pleased to Learn How It Has Been Done
It's pretty hard to attend to duties with a constantly aching back;
With annoying urinary disorders.
Doan's Kidney Pills have made work easier.

Rhinelander people gratefully reflect.

They're for bad backs.
They're for weak kidneys.

Rhinelander people gratefully recommend Doan's.

Mrs. O. O. Schultz, 104 Thayer
St., Rhinelander, says: "My back ached so badly that I could work only for a little while in the morning and I could just barely drag myself around. I had dull pains over my kidneys, extending into my hips and limbs and these pains seemed to take every bit of energy and strength. My kidneys didn't act right and I had inflammation of the bladder. I was feeling poorly in every way when I got Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved me quickly and after I used one box I could do my housework and get around without difficulty."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Schultz had. Foster-Mil-

Aurora Borealis.
Manifestations of aurora borealis are commonly visible in America as far south as 40 degrees—which would include New York. At 40 degrees latitude about ten auroras are visible in a year; at 42 degrees about twenty, and 45 about forty, while between the latitudes of 50 and 60 degrees, the zone of the greatest frequency, they may be seen almost any clear night. South of 30 degrees they are rare.

THREE LAKES DEPARTMENT

Miss Samony Zawaski is laid up by sickness.

The wedding bells will shortly ring at Three Lakes.

Mrs. G. C. Kuney is visiting friends at Wittenberg.

Chas. Helm and Henry Gagen were Gagen visitors on Friday.

Peter Smith is laid up with a very sore and painful leg again.

Mr. and Mrs. Fournier are spending the winter at St. Louis, Mo.

Frank and James Kennedy have taken a logging job at Long Lake.

Miss Emma Beque of Woodruff, Sundayed with Three Lakes friends.

The heavy snow storm on Sunday put our autos out of commission.

John Berry came down from Eagle River to hire heavy logging teams.

Korzilius & Sons are busy putting up ice on Planting Ground Lake this week.

Merchant Neu is shipping a car load of store goods to Eagle River this week.

Fred Moses who has a logging camp near Lake Julia is getting along nicely.

Now get busy with those rusty snow shovels and brighten them up by the sweat on your brow.

Mrs. C. G. Eaton is dangerously ill at Rapid River, Mich. She is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Conover.

Manifee, the Eagle River editor, was in town on Saturday. His appetite appeared to be as good as usual.

Gust Doff is registered at the Hotel Three Lakes. Gust has many friends at Three Lakes who are glad to see him again.

C. G. Kuney and Wm. Bricker were at Chicago the greater part of the week; going there in the interests of the Bricker estate.

Dr. Meyer of Eagle River was summoned to prescribe for the H. Leventosky baby. The little baby is quite sick with stomach trouble.

Mrs. John Olkowski is having a grand tussle with the grip. She is suffering with a complication of headache, earache, painful eyes and a swollen face.

Andrew Zawocki arrived here from Minneapolis on Saturday. He comes to pay his parents a visit. Andrew is holding a fine position with a Minneapolis firm.

Old Bill Anderson No. 1, has made his appearance among his Three Lakes friends. Bill makes at least an annual visit to his old home town.

Judge Alex Higgins of Eagle River was a Three Lakes visitor last Saturday. He came down to settle the taxes for Mr. Higgins of Clearwater Lake and it didn't take long to relieve him of some six hundred dollars.

The Three Lakes skiing club successfully weathered the storm last Sunday and none of the members were lost in the drifts; however N. Anderson had a mighty close call.

Mr. Gerhart who has charge of the wire grass baling operations reports that things are moving on all O. K. He says "there is plenty of fresh air on the big swamp these days."

Now is the time that every one of our citizens should make application to the State Fish Commission for lake fry. Do not neglect this but get busy and do your duty right now.

News has reached us to the effect that Lon Mattoon, while cutting timber at Butternut Lake, had the misfortune of dropping a heavy stick on his foot and badly smashing the foot.

The Three Lakes Canal and Transportation Co. held its annual meeting the first of the week. A 3 per cent dividend was declared and authorized paid to the several stock holders.

A dirty drunken tramp found his way to the Leo Duvrak shack on the Rhinelander road and relieved Leo from an overcoat, watch and some money. The cuss ought to be caught and horsewhipped.

Chas. Woelfler of Lake Mills, representing L. Fuedner & Co. of Milwaukee, was a Three Lakes business visitor the first of the week. Charlie thinks he is pretty well to do judging by his tax receipt.

F. S. Campbell came home to spend Sunday with his family. If talking will do any good Fred will have the entire northern and western portion of Wisconsin in one huge patch of potatoes next season.

Rev. Schmidt of Eagle River conducted religious services at Three Lakes last Sabbath. He came down with an auto and experienced quite an exciting time in getting his auto home. It was the last car out.

Miss Emma Korzilius has organized a music class and gave her first lesson last Saturday. Emma is right at home with a piano and if you have a child you wish to take lessons put her in charge of Emma and you will receive your money's worth.

A speaker representing the Meridian Highway Association will shortly visit Three Lakes and every citizen should watch for the date and make it a point to hear him. The date for his appearance at Three Lakes has not as yet been announced.

Elva Bennett gave a party to her young lady friends last Friday evening; it was strictly a girl affair and all present were given full permission to help make the evening a jolly one, and through a "leak" the reporter was advised that the young ladies enjoyed one real lively time.

The Norwegian Lutheran young people will meet with Miss Mabel Houg on N. Brown street next Thursday evening.

Felix Holt of Wabasha, Minn., has just purchased 160 acres of cut over lands near Eagle River from C. Eby of this city. It is Mr. Holt's intention to erect summer cottages on the tract.

P. L. Whittier, "The Barefoot Boy," returned the latter part of last week from Chicago where he spent a number of days buying new spring stocks for his growing mercantile business at 135 S. Brown street.

Erick Hagar of Iron Mountain, Mich., president of Grand Lodge S. H. & E. F., stopped off here Monday on his return from Minneapolis in the interest of the order. A number of friends and members greeted the old lodge veteran at the Hotel Oneida.

FORCED SALE OF LANDS
We need money desperately! To get it will make unheard of sacrifice. Will sell any sized tract from 7400 acres (much of it well timbered) to 40 acres in town of Minocqua, Oneida Co., at 2-3 assessed valuations. Write for estimates, descriptions, etc. Traders Land Co., Eau Claire, Wis.

Mrs. Oscar Anderson returned Saturday to her home at Gladstone, Mich., after a week's stay with her husband. Mr. Anderson was taken sick on the road and had to go to St. Mary's hospital here. He is an engineer on the Soo line and a nephew of Andrew Olson of the north side. This was Mrs. Anderson's first visit to Rhinelander; she thinks it is a fine city. She was one of the first guests at the new Hotel Oneida.

One of our citizens who occasionally wipes the dishes for his wife, became tired of the job and refused, saying that "it was not a man's work." Not feeling disposed to lose his help she brought the Bible out to convince him of his error and read as follows from 1st Kings 21:13. "And will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." It is needless to say that he is still doing his occasional stunt.

RHINELANDER ON NEW AUTO ROUTE

Meridian Highway From Gulf To Lake Superior Taps Nor. Wisconsin

Malcolm MacKinnon of Rockford Ill., secretary of the Meridian Highway association, is spending several days in northern Wisconsin in the interests of establishing a continuous north and south highway from Mobile, Ala., to Houghton, Mich., states the Merrill Daily Herald. The highway will pass via Rockford, Beloit, Madison, Kilbourn, Grand Rapids, Wausau, Merrill, Rhinelander, Eagle River, and Watersmeet and promises to be of great interest to tourists owing to the popularity of northern Wisconsin as a summer resort and New Orleans as a winter resort.

A large number of Tennessee, Kentucky and Illinois people annually go to the lakes of northern Wisconsin to spend the summer months. In the past these people have made the journey via Chicago but with the establishment of this through highway it is expected that they will travel via this route which permits them to visit the Devil's Lake region and Kilbourn Dells enroute.

The highway is known as the Meridian highway inasmuch as it followed what is known as the third meridian in Illinois. The highway has been marked from Madison to Pana, Ill., with a twenty-one inch yellow band with a large black "M" upon it. From Corinth to Artesia, Miss., the highway consists of a continuous improved macadam road and from Houghton to Watersmeet, it consists of an improved highway, part of which is paved with concrete, part with macadam, and part with the tailings from copper mines.

The road will probably cross to the west side of the Wisconsin river at Nekoosa in order to take advantage of the long stretch of concrete road between that place and Grand Rapids. The cost of marking the route and advertising the highway will be borne by public subscription.

THE NEW NORTH

The New North Printing Co.
Entered at the Postoffice at Rhinelander, Wis., as Second Class Mail Matter

JANUARY 23, 1917

For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

A bill was introduced in the legislature to abolish the conservation commission. This has been one of the most useful commissions in the state and we can not believe it will be abolished without a struggle.

Rhineland opened its new hotel, "The Oneida" with a big banquet on Monday evening. It is an elaborate affair, and judging from the description of the hotel, that must likewise be "some" hotel. We congratulate that city upon at last acquiring that which they have so long wanted.—Antigo Journal.

A joint committee of three from the city advancement association and three from the county board agreed upon the roads to be built if the bond issue passes and these are virtually the same roads recommended by Highway Commissioner F. E. Parker.

Sometimes discussions bring out facts. One should not oppose until he knows the merits in the case.

While in this city Tuesday Judge Walsh of Crandon received a telephone message announcing the death of Frank H. Brady, publisher of the Crandon Republican. Mr. Brady had been in failing health for some time. He was one of Wisconsin's veteran newspaper men as well as one of the brightest and his death is a real loss to the craft. The New North extends its sympathy to Mr. Brady's family.

The other day plaster fell from the high ceiling of the assembly hall of the new high school on the desks and floor below. As good luck would have it, some children whose seats are directly under the ceiling where the plaster fell were out of school that day, others were in classes. Had conditions been otherwise, a different tale would have to be told. As we understand a leak in the roof of the building the past three years has caused the plaster to be frequently wet and consequently it fell off. The frequent wetting of plaster will cause trouble. Perhaps it would be well to say this for the unobserving.

SEEK AGRICULTURAL AGENTS.

Four more counties of Wisconsin, Brown, Jackson, Kenosha, and St. Croix have officially voted to employ a county agricultural representative. They will present their claims to the Board of University Regents on Jan. 15.

Two of the four counties in line for agricultural representatives will be obliged to wait until 1918, however, as the law allows but two appointments to be filled in 1917. Eighteen agricultural representatives were at work in the state at the close of the past year, funds being supplied by the counties on the one hand, to which were added appropriations from the state and federal governments through their agricultural extension service regulations.

When the Board of Regents announce the counties selected for appointments, the men to fill the positions will be recommended by the College of Agriculture, subject to approval by the county boards.

ARTICLES BY MAYOR

Mayor Grant V. Clark has consented to write for the New North a series of articles on municipal affairs, the first of which will appear shortly.

The Formidable Tom.

A writer, traveling on foot through the southern mountains studying the people for literary purposes, came upon a man of whom he sought information as to the location of a certain cabin where he had been advised to put up for the night. "You-all got there?" asked the man. "Well, Tom's a first-class man, take him just right, but he's mighty queer." "What do you mean?" "It's like this: Tom'll be settin' outside, most likely, an' he'll see you-all, an' if you-all don't suit him he may set the dawg on ya. Ef he don't and you gits to talkin' with him, and say anything he don't like he may throw you down an' tramp on you-all. But ef you-all's too careful in your talk, on the other hand, he's liable to git suspicious an' take you-all for a spy an' use his gun fast an' listen to explanations afterward. But it ain't no use tryin' to git by without stopping. Ef you-all was to try that, it would be all up, for he'd think you-all was proud an' haughty. Ef you-all wants to come outer the mountain whole, don't go past Tom's cabin without stopping, whatever you do."—New York Times.

Finger Ring in History.

From the earliest period of civilized relationships, the finger ring has been accepted as the symbol of fidelity and truth in the fulfillment of a pledge, and for the greater part of 2,000 years it was used as the most convenient means for conveying the signet of the wearer.

USE NITRATE OF SODA

Tests Made With Material in Production of Vegetables.

Top Dressings May Reasonably Be Expected to Have Beneficial Effect on Radishes, Turnips, Beets and Cabbage.

(By JOHN W. LLOYD, Illinois)

Extraneous claims are sometimes made regarding the influence of nitrate of soda upon the yield and earliness of certain vegetable crops, particularly those of which a vegetative part constitutes the edible product. The claims are especially emphatic in reference to early planted crops, since much of their growth must be made at a time when conditions in the soil are not favorable for rapid nitrification; and the supplying of nitrogen in a readily available form at such a time would seem to promise good results. In view of these considerations it was thought best to make some tests with this material in the production of vegetables on the brown silt loam of the corn belt. Accordingly a series of tests was planned, including eight kinds of vegetables, viz.: radish, turnip, beet, onion, spinach, lettuce, cabbage, and cauliflower. Top dressings of nitrate of soda were made to the above-named vegetables. The experiment was continued through six years.

One plot received applications of nitrate of soda at intervals of one week, and another at intervals of two weeks. A third plot was left untreated as a check.

In the light of the data secured in connection with the nitrate of soda experiments the following conclusions are warranted:

1. Under the soil and climatic conditions attending these tests, nitrate of soda usually does not induce an excessive development of foliage on the common early root crops; radishes, turnips and beets, without a corresponding development of the root.

2. Top-dressings of nitrate of soda may reasonably be expected to have a beneficial effect upon the following crops of early vegetables, on well-manured brown silt loam in the corn belt; radishes, turnips, beets, spinach, cabbage, cauliflower. The beneficial effect may consist in a higher percentage of plants reaching marketable size or condition within a given time, greater size of the individual specimens, or greater total yield. (If the stand were uniform, the last two points would be correlated.)

3. Under the conditions of these tests, the benefits to be derived from top-dressings of nitrate of soda to onions and head lettuce do not appear to be sufficiently marked or consistent to warrant the use of this fertilizing material on these crops.

4. Nitrate of soda applied at intervals of two weeks seems to be fully as effective as when applied at more frequent intervals, even though the aggregate amount of material is correspondingly less; in many cases it is more effective.

5. Under the conditions of these tests, the beneficial results of using nitrate of soda in the production of early vegetables do not appear to be so pronounced as results which have been reported from certain other sections of the country.

PROTECT CLOVER FROM RAIN

Best Practice to Allow Crop to Become Ripe as Possible—Cut in Good, Dry Weather.

An inferior grade of clover seed is produced when the clover is allowed to lie in windrows in the field for several weeks before it is hulled. Varying proportions of the seeds become brown and often actually lose all germinating powers.

The best practice is to allow the clover to become as ripe as possible without loss from shelling when the seed is harvested. Cut it in good, dry weather and then protect it from exposure to rains. Provided a huller can be procured at once, hulling direct from the field will economize labor.

If it is necessary to delay the hulling, damage and loss to the seed crop will be avoided by storing the clover in a barn or in a carefully constructed and well-covered stack.

ADVERTISING PAYS ON FARM

Something Descriptive or Suggestive of Product Should Be Selected by Every Farmer.

Every business should have a name—the name of the owner, or something which will be descriptive or suggestive of his product. So the farm should have a name to distinguish it from those all around it. Not only give it a name but let everybody know its name.

Money To Loan

To Dairymen, Potato Growers and Live Stock Farmers

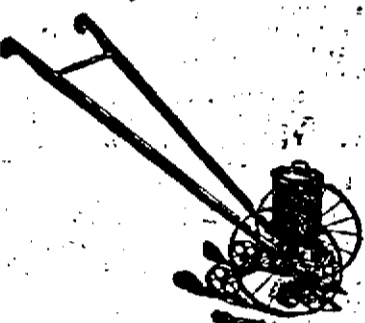

Markham & May Company of Milwaukee announce the extension of its loan service to the counties of Upper Wisconsin and Michigan.

Dairymen, Potato Growers, and Live Stock Farmers desiring to increase their operations, are invited to consider the Markham & May plans for co-operating in the development of the agricultural industries of Oneida and adjoining counties.

Correspondence is solicited.

STOCK CARE DURING WINTER

Conscientious Animal Husbandman Cannot Enjoy Ease Around Fire When Animals Are Cold.

A good animal husbandman has sympathy for his animals. He cannot enjoy his ease around the fire during a cold evening when he knows his animals are shivering in the cold air.

The same is true with food. When the farmer sits down at his table, bountifully supplied with those things his farm produced, he cannot fully enjoy it unless his animals are also supplied with feed raised on the farm.

Now is the time to make arrangements for shelter, comfort and feeding conveniences. The animals will not thrive if they are uncomfortable. Their bodies will need protection from the winter temperatures. These arrangements should be made before cold weather comes.

REMOVING SILAGE FROM SILO

Six-Tine Fork Is Best Implement to Use for Purpose—Easy to Pitch Through Door.

The usual way of removing silage from the silo is to use a five or six-tine fork. If the silo is not of too great diameter it is comparatively easy to pitch the silage through the door.

If the silo is underground and too deep to pitch out the silage, it can be taken out by lowering the truck into the silo, filling it, and then elevating it by means of a block and tackle or by horse or gasoline engine.

WATCH YOUR FOWLS CLOSELY

Preventive Measures Will Often Prevent Further Trouble—Know When They Are Ailing.

It pays to keep watch of fowls and chicks so that you will know when they are ailing before they become actually sick.

Then preventive measures will often prevent further trouble.

Why Thick Glasses Break Easily.

Thin glasses do not crack so easily as thick glasses when you pour hot water into them. This is because the heat penetrates the thin glass so quickly as to heat all parts of it equally, and they hold together in the expansion which occurs. When hot water is poured into a thick glass the particles forming the inside of the glass begin to expand before the heat has penetrated to the outside of the glass, and in the effort to expand the inside particles of the glass break away from the particles of the outer side, thereby causing the crack.

Not Hurt by Use.

During his vacation a San Francisco lawyer met an old friend in the village, and their conversation drifted to a discussion of the natives. A young farmer came under his view. "He's a fine-looking young fellow," said the lawyer. "Y-e-s," assented his friend dubiously. "Well, anyway, he has a mighty good head." "It ought to be good," was the reply. "That man's head is brand-new—he's never used it any."

Blessed Are the Humble.

My child, do your work with meekness and you will deserve love. The higher you rise, the humbler you be. Many live in fame and supremacy, but to the humble only are mysteries revealed. Seek not things too difficult and beyond your strength. But that which is assigned to you regard with esteem. Be not curious of things you have no business with. As it is, more is revealed to you than you are able to comprehend. Many are deceived by their own vain opinion; therefore boast not of knowledge you do not possess.—Ecclesiastes Apocryphal.

WEALTHY LUMBERMAN DIES
Julius Edwin, local representative for the Schlitz and Pabst brewing companies, is home from Escanaba where he attended the funeral of his uncle, Julius Edwin, who was a well known lumberman of northern Wisconsin and Michigan. The village of Parrish in Langlade county was established by Mr. Edwin and for years he had charge of lumber operations there. He was 80 years of age and one of the wealthy men of Escanaba.

ANNUAL BANQUET
Members of the Rhinelander Woman's Club will give their annual banquet to the gentlemen this evening in the Hotel Oneida.
A fine program of musical and literary numbers will be given and an elaborate menu will be served.

William Nick returned Saturday to Tomahawk.

ROBERT CALDWELL LOSES RIGHT ARM

Robert Caldwell, superintendent for the C. C. Collins Lumber company, and one of this city's prominent young men, was the victim of a most shocking accident Tuesday afternoon, when his right arm caught in a cog wheel and was so terribly mutilated that amputation at the elbow was necessary.

Mr. Caldwell was working about a donkey engine when the distressing affair occurred. His arm became wedged in the cog and was literally ground to pieces as far as the first joint before the power was shut off and the machinery stopped. Displaying remarkable nerve, Mr. Caldwell himself pulled the lever which checked the engine.

Mr. Caldwell was taken at once to St. Mary's hospital where Drs. Richard and McIndoe operated on him for the removal of the arm. He stood the ordeal bravely and according to accounts today is doing as nicely as can be expected under the condition.

In his misfortune Mr. Caldwell has the sympathy of his host of friends in this city.

OLD ENGINEER DIES SUDDENLY

James Dutch, veteran Soo line locomotive engineer who had many friends in Rhinelander, dropped dead from heart disease in Minneapolis Tuesday. He was shoveling snow in front of his home when the summons came.

"Jim" Dutch was one of the most popular engineers in the employ of the Soo line. A few years ago he was retired from service on a pension. Not long ago he spent a couple of days among friends here and at that time appeared in the best of health. His sudden death comes as a shock.

Mr. Dutch is survived by his wife. He is reputed to have left a fortune estimated in the neighborhood of $75,000.

Absurd Old Laws.

An article in the Revue des Traditions Populaires in 1890 told how a glacier was excommunicated on account of the damage it did to life and property in the valley. In English law there was for many years a statute compelling owners of personal chattels which had caused the death of a man to give them to God. This was accomplished by turning them over to the crown to be sold and the proceeds applied to pious uses.

As to Brain Food.

The more brains a man has the more he is in need of brain food, though not necessarily the kind he would take in through his mouth. That is, the best kind of food for the brain is the kind we put into the brain instead of the stomach. There isn't much use to take food for the brain we haven't got, anyway.

HERE'S something curious about W-B CUT Chewing—it takes less out of your pocket and puts a better chew into your mouth. No big plug sagging your pocket, no big wad sagging your cheek. Half as much of this rich tobacco goes twice as far as ordinary plug. W-B saves your silver and gives you a silver-lining feeling of happiness all over. You can't help from telling your friends about W-B.

NEWSY NOTES OF NEARBY TOWNS

Rice Lake— It is not often that a man residing in a city has an opportunity to shoot a real wolf in his own yard. H. H. Jewett, of Rice Lake, not only had the opportunity, but he was equal to the occasion and turned the trick with a 22 calibre rifle. It seems that some Rice Lake parties own some wolf hounds and they had the dogs out on the trail of this wolf for a couple of days. The wolf, in his desperation to get away from his pursuers, came right into the city and took refuge in Mr. Jewett's back yard with the result as stated above.

Shawano— Every year, the Menominees hold a King feast, or as it is often called a "dog feast." At each of these feasts cakes are passed around, and whoever gets the cake with a bean on it is obligated to give a feast the succeeding year. Last year this lot fell to Ernest Oshkosh, and on Saturday, he gave his feast, which was attended by a great crowd from all over the reservation. The cake for this big feast was made by the Mehlberg bakery. It was a three layer cake, 21 inches in diameter and thirty inches high, and weighed thirty-four pounds. The cake was covered with ornaments.

Merrill— It is announced that Gov. Philipp has granted a full pardon to Mark N. Fenner. Fenner is now an old man but the murder which he committed and for which he was given a life sentence in 1883, was carefully premeditated and one of the coldest blooded ones ever committed in this state. The victim was an old man named Hessler, who was on his way from Adams county to the logging woods with a pair of mules. Fenner murdered the old man at or near Sherry, Wood county and took the mules which he afterwards sold. Fenner was arrested and after a long legal contest was convicted and given a life sentence. It is understood that when working in the shoe department at the state prison some years ago, Fenner invented a machine that was of a good deal of value to shoe manufacturers. Some time after the machine was perfected he was paroled by a former state administration and was immediately given employment in a shoe factory at Fond du Lac.

Ashland— While the contract called for the completion of the Armour Packing Company's branch house at Ashland Saturday, the time has been extended until the middle of February. Tomlinson & Egan have the contract for this $10,000 structure. The new building is one of the finest of its kind in the north west. It is being constructed of re-inforced concrete. The mechanical refrigerating plant will be most complete. The refrigerating machine is to be operated automatically. The building will be equipped with a hot water heating plant, and electric elevator. The cold storage room will be perfectly insulated with pure cork board. Thruout the branch house will be fireproof. The interior of the cold storage room will be finished in white enamel. The ceilings will be covered with a cement plaster.

Iron River— The dairy business around Iron River is rapidly getting out of the class of "infant" industries—it is getting to be quite some child, in fact. The growth in the past two years has been very remarkable, and there is every reason to believe that the growth will be maintained for some years to come. On December 31, the local creamery made up its record for the year just closed, and this record showed that in 1916 it manufactured 40 per cent. more butter than in 1915, and paid its patrons 63 per cent. more for butterfat. The proportionate increase in money paid out over production is due to the higher levels of prices paid for butterfat in 1916 over the previous year.

NEW SETTLERS

James Kauffman of Cresco, Iowa, has just bought through C. P. Crosby of this city a large parcel of cut-over lands in the western part of Oneida county, which he will lease to new settlers with the right to purchase. At least twelve families from Iowa and Minnesota will locate on the lands in the coming spring.

Mr. Crosby has been the means of bringing scores of new families into Oneida county; he says that he is just fairly started in this good work and promises greater results in the near future.

BOXING CARNIVAL HERE FRIDAY, JANUARY 26

Dr. Garner and Mr. Barton, judges; Jack Dougherty, Referee.

Friday evening the Rhinelander Amateur Athletic Association holds a free boxing tournament. Each boxer will be examined by the club physician as to temperature, pulse, (sitting and standing) lungs, heart and blood pressure. No athlete will be allowed to box who is not fit to go the required number of rounds. Under the very efficient boxing commission of the state of Wisconsin, boxing is conducted in such a way as to eliminate all the bad features and yet give the men of our city a chance to see the manly art of self-defense with plenty of action with the gloves. Only men will be allowed to see the first exhibition because of lack of seating facilities of the

NEW FORD SALE POLICY
Milwaukee, Jan. 20, 1917.
Oneida Garage Co.,
Rhinelander, Wisconsin.
Gentlemen:—
The policy on shipments of Ford cars today is that we will fill orders for immediate delivery first. After these are filled, we will start filling orders covering retail buyers' orders and agreements signed by the customers in the hands of our agents. When these are filled, we will start placing cars in the hands of our agents for stock.
To get orders for immediate delivery is to have your customers pay you for the cars in full, showing their desire to receive their car at the present time, and we will ship you these cars, and the bill of sale can immediately be made out to the owner.
It is not really that there is a shortage of Ford cars, but the demand at this time of the year is tremendous in certain localities and we are endeavoring to fill this demand so that customers who can use the cars, and can get them at once.
Yours truly,

BUCKNAM TELLS OF MADISON MEET

Dry Worker Addresses Big Neighborhood Gathering At Little Home

(Contributed)

On Wednesday evening the weekly neighborhood meeting of the Oneida County Dry Federation was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little. Over thirty earnest men and women gathered to hear the report of Mr. A. B. Bucknam, campaign secretary of the federation, who had just returned from attending two very important meetings. One was held at Chicago and was a gathering of national prohibition leaders from nearly every state in the union; the other meeting was the Dry Convention held at Madison, in the interest of state wide prohibition for Wisconsin. Immense crowds had gathered from all parts of the state to attend this conference and to hear Wm. Jennings Bryan, who spoke at the stock pavilion on Monday night to a crowd of over 8000 people. Many were turned away and waited in an overthrown meeting until Bryan could address them after finishing his first speech. The following morning a dry bill was introduced in the assembly by Wm. T. Evjue of Dane county. As all of the big business interests of the state, excepting the liquor interests are back of this bill, it is hard to see how the legislature can refuse to allow the people of the state the privilege of voting on the wet and dry question in 1918.

In one of the conferences at Madison, when plans were being formulated as to how to go about the organization of the state, the method being followed by Oneida county was advised, not knowing that we had already inaugurated the plan of work until Mr. Bucknam had the pleasure of telling of organization here and the work already accomplished. Much credit was given Oneida county Dry Federation for being the first in the field.

Mr. Bucknam, when he came to Rhinelander, expected to go to Kansas as soon as the spring election is over, to remain two years, working in the interest of a prohibition congressman, but his hearers at this meeting were much rejoiced to hear that while away on this trip, he had asked to be released from his Kansas engagement in order to cast his lot with Wisconsin in the coming campaign. Knowing of the remarkable work done by him in Arizona we know now that Wisconsin will vote dry if given the opportunity to vote by the legislature. The next neighborhood meeting will be held next Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carter 710 Wabash Ave., near Kemp street. Everyone interested is cordially invited to attend these weekly gatherings which are held in the interest of a dry Oneida county, a dry state and nation.

NOTED VIOLINIST TO APPEAR HERE

Rhineland music lovers will on February 12 have the opportunity of being entertained by the Ole Theobaldi Concert Party, one of the greatest organizations of musical talent in the world. The company is brought to this city under the auspices of the Civic Committee of the Woman's Club and the concert will be held in the high school auditorium.

Theobaldi is the possessor of sixty-two gold medals and decorations has been Royal Chamber Musician to his majesty, Oscar, King of Sweden, and Czar Alexander and Nicholas of Russia. At the great Congress in Rome, September 26, 1896, King Umberto conferred upon Theobaldi the Order of Osirius (The Italian Crown studded with diamonds) and upon the occasion of his second concert before Count Stolypin, Russia's Premier, Theobaldi was presented with a bow studded with eleven diamonds, the largest weighing four and one-half carats.

Theobaldi originally came to America under the direction of Maurice Grau, Manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York (Season 1890-1900), touring the cities of the New England States and the North Atlantic Seaboard, returning to Europe for an extended tour of six years. In 1907 he again visited America under the management of David Henderson, of Extravaganza fame, which tour was interrupted by the unfortunate death of Mr. Henderson.

After the death of Ole Bull, Theobaldi came in possession of several of the great master's instruments, the most interesting being his favorite Caspar da Sala violin, made in 1592, valued at $25,000 and said by connoisseurs to be one of the most famous violins in the world. The head piece of the instrument was carved by Cellini. No violinist since the halcyon days of Ole Bull has met with greater favor than Theobaldi, his distinguished countryman.

THE TEST

By EARL REED SILVERS.

Eleanor Rileigh had been at the seashore for exactly thirteen days. Her vacation was rapidly approaching its close and Eleanor was troubled. She did not want to go back again to the bustle and bustle of the city; she wanted to stay at Seaside, where she could see Ned Shanley every morning, noon and night. For Eleanor had begun to care very much for Ned, and in her heart of hearts she admitted to herself that she hoped Ned had begun to care for her.

It had been a wonderful week. During the first part of her stay at Seaside Eleanor had simply sat around the hotel porch, dressed in the proper gown, doing the proper things in the proper way. But just a week ago Ned had appeared, and after that things were different.

Eleanor gazed thoughtfully over the sun-kissed ocean. She looked rather hopefully up and down the broad piazza, but the object of her thoughts was nowhere to be seen. He was late for supper, but directly after the meal he met her on the steps of the hotel.

"Hello, little lady in white," was his method of greeting. "What shall we do tonight?"

"Just stay around, I guess." Her blue eyes rested questioningly on his. "Don't you want to?"

"I sure do." There was the slightest hint of laughter in his voice. "It means the last time we will be together in Seaside."

"We've had a wonderful time, haven't we?" She seated herself behind him on the porch.

"Just fine." He spoke enthusiastically. "But we're going to keep right on having good times, aren't we?"

"Do you mean after we go back to the city?"

"Of course."

She smiled a little twisted smile which bordered on the pathetic.

"Oh, you know how things always are after summer vacation. People forget."

"But we're not going to." He spoke earnestly. "Surely we'll see each other in New York."

"But how about all the girls you have told me about; girls in your own set, like Gladys Romanie and Beverly Baldwin?"

"They don't count now," he said. "But they will count," she persisted. "You'll want to go to dances and house parties just as you used to, and you'll forget all about this summer—and me."

He smiled away her doubts.

"I couldn't forget about you," he said.

"All right, let's don't talk about it." She laughed lightly, but her eyes were troubled.

Side by side they made their way into the ballroom, and it was not until after midnight that Eleanor reverted to the conversation of the early evening.

"This is our last time together," she said softly.

"What do you mean?" He looked up quickly.

"After tonight you mustn't see me any more." She tried to speak casually, but there was a tremor in her voice which all her attempt at bravery could not conceal.

"Oh, you don't mean that," he protested. "I thought we were going to see each other lots."

"No, I—guess it's all over, after tonight."

He rose and stood so that the light from the moon shone directly into her face.

"Are you engaged?" There was a hurt look in his eyes.

"No."

He sighed relievedly.

"Then there isn't any reason why I can't see you."

"There is. Won't you please take my word for it and not try to?" she pleaded.

He glanced down half angrily. Her eyes were bordered with tears, and, as he watched, one large drop quivered in the moonlight and rolled down her cheeks. In an instant he was sitting beside her, her head pillowed on his shoulder.

"Oh, you mustn't see me any more," she sobbed. "My name isn't Eleanor Rileigh at all; it's just plain Ellen Reilly, and I'm a stenographer downtown."

He raised her face to his.

"And do you think that will make any difference?"

"Yes, it will." Her hand rested on his arm. "If you were only like people I know, things would be all right. But you're not, you're rich."

"You mustn't talk like that, dear," he said softly. "I love you; that's all that matters."

Through a veil of tears she smiled up at him.

"And you care, no matter what I am?" she asked happily.

"Yes more than all the world." Hastily she wiped the tears from her eyes.

"I'm glad, Ned," she announced, and her tone was a caress, "because I'm not a stenographer, after all."

The expression on his face betokened bewilderment.

"Then why did you tell me that?" he asked wonderingly.

"Because I wanted to test you, dear, and you've proven true to my ideal of you."

They both smiled happily, and the obliging moon disappeared behind an equally obliging cloud.

SOIL SUITABLE FOR PASTURE
Many Fields Have Been Impoverished by Growing Field Crops and Selling Products.

The pasture land need not be land suitable for nothing else. The practice of using only rough land worthless for field crops as pasture has been so common that some have the idea that level highly fertile soil cannot be used for pasture.

Whether or not land can be used for pasture depends upon its value, the amount of grazing it will produce and the prices received for the live stock raised on the grass. There are many who could afford to use their good land for pasture. Some would find it profitable to use a portion of their land now devoted exclusively to field crops, if for no other purpose, to build it up.

Many farms, have been impoverished by growing field crops and selling the products. Even the weeds that nature persuades the soil to let grow are burned and all vegetable matter destroyed. Such lands might be converted into pasture for a few years with satisfactory results, if good stock was kept.

RATS IN THE CHICKEN YARD
Mixture of Cornmeal and White Lead Successfully Used at Missouri Experiment Station.

(By H. L. KEMPSTER, Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station.)

Rats cause great losses in many poultry yards, but at the Missouri College of Agriculture we have had no trouble in getting rid of them by poisoning with a mixture of two parts cornmeal and one part sugar of lead. The hand should not come in contact with the poison feed, and all other feeds should be removed so the rats cannot get them.

The poisoned feed may be kept away from the chickens by putting it in a tray, nailed to the middle of the bottom of a box at least a foot square and six inches high. The box should be closed on all sides except for a number of inch and a half holes bored through the sides near the bottom.

Burn or bury the dead rats so that chickens cannot eat them. The decayed flesh of even unpoisoned rats is likely to cause humber neck, a ptomaine poison is called in chickens.

Artificial Silk From Timber.
Artificial silk manufactured from wood pulp for which several kinds of California timber are suitable is used annually in this country to the amount of 7,000,000,000 pounds. It is utilized principally in the manufacture of millinery, sweaters and hosiery.

Chinese Peanut Industry Growing.
Growth of peanuts in China has increased enormously, due in part to the discovery of the possible utilization of peanut oil in manufacturing soap as a substitute for olive oil, and for various culinary purposes, and of the nut itself, after baking, as a substitute for coffee, for mixing with chocolate and cocoa, and as an ingredient in biscuit-making.

Diseases of Plants.
Parasitic diseases affect plants as well as animals, but the problems of immunity of plants have received little attention. From a comparative study of healthy and diseased plants R. W. Thatcher has now brought out the interesting fact that there are two types of resistance or immunity. In one, the enzymes or other active substances excreted by the hyphae of the growing parasite are antagonized by the tissue material of the plant attacked; and in the second, the infected tissue is so sensitive that it is killed at the point of entrance of the parasite, which is thus starved to death from failure of its supply of food material.

Wonder of the Rose.
What service has the rose rendered to our ancestors that we should admire it beyond all rational measure? Did it feed them, clothe them, warm them, or serve to deck some otherwise unattractive maid and win for her a wooer? Did our ancestors, whether beasts or human progenitors of retreating skull and tusklake teeth, breathe in its beauty and take fresh courage for the battle of life? Can it be by chance that man has come to find in a flower the great symbol of beauty? Why is not the fruit more beautiful to him than the flower? Why not the vegetable than the fruit? Why not the fish than the vegetable, or a lamb chop most beautiful of all?—Henry Dwight Sedgwick, in the Atlantic.

Oldest Fort in the New World.
It is a fascinating experience to visit Santo Domingo and wander amid the ruins of the ancient city, from the fortifications of Homenaje, the oldest in the new world, to the first stone church built on this side of the Atlantic, and to the tomb of the great discoverer. Nowhere else in this hemisphere are there scenes fraught with more historical significance to Americans than here, where Columbus had his hour of triumph and his hour of sorrow, and where, when he had embarked upon the great voyage from which he would never return to endure the sickle favor of petty princes, his ashes finally found repose.
